Fox Chase Bank Announces Randy McGarry as Chief Information Officer

Hatboro, PA, August 3, 2010 – Fox Chase Bank (the “Bank”) and its holding company, Fox Chase Bancorp, Inc. (NASDAQ: FXCB) announced today the addition of Randy McGarry as Senior Vice President, Chief Information Officer. Randy will be based out of the Bank’s Blue Bell operations center.

Randy is a seasoned financial executive with close to twenty years of experience in the banking industry. Prior to joining the Bank, Randy was Executive Vice President, Chief Information & Technology Officer for Harleysville National Corporation in Harleysville, PA. Randy also spent numerous years as the Chief Information Officer and Chief Operations Officer at Republic First Bancorp where he began his career in banking.

A resident of Lansdale, PA, Randy has a B.S. in Finance from the Pennsylvania State University, and holds a MBA degree in MIS from Drexel University.

Thomas M. Petro, President and CEO of Fox Chase Bank stated, “Technology is playing a larger role in each of our lives and transforming the client experience in banking. While bank technology has historically been inwardly focused on driving efficient mechanisms for handling payments, it is increasingly client facing today. Smartphones, social media and the explosion of the internet are changing the way we work, play and do our banking business. We are proud to have the strong leadership that Randy provides to guide Fox Chase Bank’s development and implementation of easy to use banking tools for our clients.”

Fox Chase Bancorp, Inc. is the stock holding company of Fox Chase Bank. The Bank is a federally chartered savings bank originally established in 1867. The Bank offers traditional banking services and products from its main office in Hatboro, Pennsylvania and ten branch offices in Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware and Philadelphia Counties in Pennsylvania and Atlantic and Cape May Counties in New Jersey.
